About this information

This information is about better palliative care for people with intellectual disability.

Palliative care is support you get when have a serious health problem you will die from.

It is hard for people with intellectual disability to get good palliative care.

We did some research to see how we can fix this.

Research is when you look into something to find out more about it.

We used our research to make new resources for

- Health workers

- People with intellectual disability

- Support people.

Resources are things like

- Information

- Tools to help you do something.

More people with intellectual disability need palliative care.

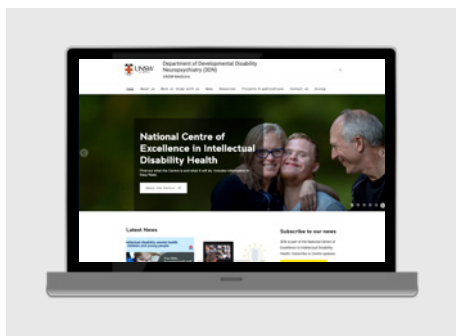

Health workers have not been trained to give palliative care to people with intellectual disability.

We want these resources to help people with intellectual disability get good palliative care.

Go to our website

All the resources are free on our website.

For an Easy Read toolkit you can go to the website www.bit.ly/toolkit-pwid-supporters

The toolkit has information about what you can do to get good palliative care.

We have made an Easy Read story about someone who gets good palliative care.

To read the story you can go to our website
