

National Intellectual Disability Clinician Network

We are doing a project to set up a National Intellectual Disability Clinician Network.

We will say clinician network for short.

A clinician network is a group where health workers can share and talk about ideas.

It is for health workers who work with people with intellectual disability.

This could be health workers like

- Doctors and nurses

- Physiotherapists

- Psychologists.

A physiotherapist helps people move better and feel less pain.

A psychologist helps people with how they think and feel.

Why are we doing this project

Health workers can learn a lot from each other.

The clinician network will bring health workers together all around Australia.

They can share what they know about the health of people with intellectual disability.

What the project will do

We will set up an online clinician network for the project.

The health workers can talk to each other online.

We will make webinars and podcasts for the health workers.

Webinars are online courses you can join to learn new things.

Podcasts are when you listen to people talk online about an issue.

Each podcast will talk about a different issue.

About this information

National Centre of Excellence in Intellectual Disability Health made this information.

Go to www.nceidh.org.au

CID made this information Easy Read in March 2025.

CID is part of the National Centre of Excellence in Intellectual Disability Health consortium.

A consortium is a group of organisations that work together to get a goal.

Email CID at business@cid.org.au if you want to use any of the pictures.